Major Exhibit Coming March 1

During the year 2020, while the country celebrates the 100th anniversary of the ratification of the 19th amendment giving women the right to vote, we will observe this landmark moment in a uniquely Glendale way.

Beginning March 1, 2020 Glendale Heritage Preservation will stage an Trustee Nancy Macenko, who is coordinating the project, called the exhibit “a powerful tribute to women who were pathfinders for those who followed. It is a moving collection of narratives about Glendale women who changed hearts, lives and communities. Glendale Heritage Preservation is proud to present their stories during this milestone year.”

The carefully curated exhibit will present the stories of nearly three dozen Glendale women who were leaders and innovators, women whose ideas inspired change and whose actions improved the quality of life in the arts, education, health, religion, community development, commerce, government, sports and philanthropy.

Each woman featured in the “Women of Glendale” exhibit helped shape the history and culture of our Village and beyond between 1855 and 2000.

Exhibit Steering Committee members include Trustees Carolyn Beaugrand, Joanne Goode, Carol Muntz, Judy Skyllingstad, Beth Sullebarger, Susan Swaine, and Rebecca Terrell. Other contributors include Mike Beaugrand, Rob Morgan, Nancy Floyd and Brooke Sanders.

The Procter Fund is Presenting Sponsor. In addition, Frame USA is a Contributing Sponsor.

What's with the HW Pins?

Early on, as the details of the “Women of Glendale” exhibit were first being worked out, a number of Glendale men asked how they might support project. Glendale Heritage Preservation decided the most unique way was to designate these men “honorary women” for the year 2000.

To make it official, the exhibit committee created a limited-edition enamel lapel pin for men who want to stand in solidarity with those featured in the “Women of Glendale” exhibit — and with all women of Glendale.

Around the rim of the pin are the words Glendale Heritage Preservation and Honorary Woman 2020.

In the center, a large HW proclaims the wearer as an Honorary Woman.

A small number of pins are available for a donation of $50 at the depot gift shop or by sending a request to WomenofGlendale@gmail.com.

Peg Shardelow Honored

President Jim Brewer and new Trustee Emerita, Peg Shardelow

At the annual meeting of Glendale Heritage Preservation on November 12, 2019, Peg Shardelow, a Glendale native and long time supporter and trustee, was honored for her service and contributions with designation as a Trustee Emerita.

Glendale Heritage Preservation President Jim Brewer presented Peg with a framed proclamation that acknowledged a few of her contributions, including serving as the project manager for the renovation of the deteriorated railroad depot into the home of Glendale Heritage Preservation, housing its museum, archives, headquarters and gift shop.

Rob Morgan Joins GHP Board

Robert (Rob) William Morgan III is GHP's newest trustee. A Glendale resident since 2015, he and his wife Michelle live on Greenville Avenue and have three children.

Rob is a talented artist with a B.S. in Industrial Design from UC. He is Senior Project Director for Jack Rouse Associates, an international design and consulting firm specializing in cultural and entertainment projects. His local projects of note include the National Underground Railroad Freedom Center and the Cincinnati History Museum at Union Terminal.

Rob's interests include local history, U.S. Civil War history, archaeology, anthropology, antique collecting, oil painting and outdoor activities. Rob and his three brothers own and operate "Morgan's Canoe and Outdoors."

Rob also moderates the Facebook online site "Historic Glendale Ohio." His interest in history comes naturally—Rob is a first cousin to Daniel Boone seven times removed and a distant relation of James K. Polk, 11th U.S. President. With this background, Rob is an excellent fit for GHP's board and has already assisted with the upcoming exhibit of "Women of Glendale."

Street Signs Repainted

Maybe you noticed the workers at the end of your street, up on ladders. All of the village street signs and posts were given a well-deserved facelift this past summer as part of the latest project of Glendale Heritage Preservation.

This was the logical next step after the award-winning restoration and repainting of the gas lamps—a three-year effort by GHP and the Village.

The work was done the Glendale way—by volunteers—in partnership with Tom Alderfer and his Streets Department crew.

The group of GHP members fanned out around town to clean, sand, and paint all 85 posts and 160 signs on Village roadways, using supplies provided by GHP.

Peg Shardelow, the originator and coordinator of the project, led a team of cleaners and painters that included Carolyn Beaugrand, Mike Beaugrand, Bob Denny, Randy Green, Don Lofty, Nancy Macenko, Bill Sedwick, Helene Sedwick, Bill Skillingstad, Carl Stritzel, Susan Swaine, Bobby Swaine and Jim Wesselman.
